TOURS

L’Ecole Culinaire, William Nation facilitator

310 Ward Parkway, Kansas City, MO 64112

L’Ecole Culinaire is the premier culinary school in the Midwest. Our training goal is to provide the basic skills and understanding of common techniques and procedures required for employability. We emphasize “hands-on-training” with our skilled and experienced instructors, industry-related equipment, and modern, spacious classrooms and labs.

Growing Futures Early Education Center (formerly Head Start of Shawnee Mission),

Leslie Abbott facilitator

8155 Santa Fe Drive, Overland Park, KS 66204

Growing Futures Early Education Center, formerly Head Start of Shawnee Mission, began in 1965. 2015 marks our 50th anniversary of providing children and families with high quality early education and comprehensive support services that empower them to be socially and academically ready for kindergarten and life.

The Bead Shop, Monique Litherland facilitator

9009 Metcalf, Overland Park, KS 66212

Learn about entrepreneurship in fashion with this full service retail bead store. Beads of all kinds from all over the world! Amazing selection and wonderful customer service. After the short tour, put together a trendy leather bracelet, perfect for casual summer fun! A small fee of $10 or less will be charged each individual that makes the bracelet.

IKEA Merriam, William Nation facilitator

6000 IKEA Way Merriam KS 66202

Learn about the Swedish heritage of IKEA and how it has become successful as the “life improvement store” in the United States. We’ll discuss our sustainable initiatives, food practices, and the way IKEA goes above and beyond to provide customers with quality, stylish, and prices they can afford!

Federal Reserve of Kansas City, Monique Litherland facilitator

1 Memorial Drive, Kansas City, MO 64198

Learn about money and how the Federal Reserve's role in promoting stability in the nation's financial and economic systems connects with consumers of all ages. This will be a self-guided tour experience through our interactive and educational exhibits.

WORKSHOPS

“CAPS: A Design for Preparing Tomorrow's Teachers” –Tammy Fry

In order to reimagine learning in a changing and diverse world, students need teachers who are trained in social media and 21st century skills so that they can relate and adapt curriculum to a changing global community. Collaborative learning and teaching skills are crucial for future educational leaders. At the Blue Valley Center for Advanced Professional Studies, the teacher education program uses social media and 21st century (and beyond) technologies to guide future teachers into a profession which thrives on collaboration and focuses on the impact of this concept to shape our educational leaders of tomorrow.

“Emotional Appetite: The Food and Mood Connection”, Lori Wuellner

Emotional eating can get the best of anyone and can contribute to overeating, which can lead to obesity later in life. This lesson will discuss differences between emotional hunger and physical hunger, as well as identify factors associated with some food craving.

“Head Start 101 – Growing Futures Early Education Center”, Beth Nichols

Head Start is a federally funded program that provides services for children and families at the poverty level and below. Growing Futures Early Education Center, formerly Head Start of Shawnee Mission began in 1965. 2015 marks our 50th anniversary of providing children and families with high quality early education and comprehensive support services that empower them to be socially and academically ready for kindergarten and life.

“In Pursuit of the Money: Grant Writing Tips”, Susan Pfrang

Want your grant proposal to stand out from the others and get your project funded? Tips and suggestions for grant writing will be provided in this session.

“New Resources from the Federal Reserve”, Gigi Wolf

The Federal Reserve offers free classroom-ready curriculum for K-12 teachers in the areas of economics and personal finance. This interactive session will include hands-on demonstrations of the newest Federal Reserve resources for middle and high school teachers and provide free access to all of the lessons covered.

Seasoned educators know that students learn best through experiential learning. This fast-paced workshop will share a variety of time-tested, student-led experiences for the Human Services: Family & Community Services classroom. Participants will receive a “tool kit” of resources in digital format, each aligned with course competencies in this career pathway.

SOCIAL

Grapes & Paint, Kayla Taylor facilitator

7175 W. 95th Street, Overland Park, KS 66212

Founded in 2012 by Amy Pappas, Owner, Grapes & Paints was Johnson County's first social BYOB painting studio. In addition to instruction, Grapes & Paints also provides canvases, acrylic paints, brushes, smocks, glassware, bottled water and a work of art for inspiration.

Combined with strong and dedicated local ownership and staff, Grapes & Paints has the passion to provide each customer with an experience that they will never forget. Emphasizing "fun art" not fine art, Grapes & Paints pairs groups of novice painters with enthusiastic local artists who guide them stroke-by-stroke through creating their own version of a featured art work. The relaxed, laid back environment is more of an art party than an art class.

Don't be nervous, no prior art experience necessary! Whether you are learning how to hold a brush for the first time or you're an expert artist, you will create a two hour painting just as unique as you are. Experience a fun and whimsical night to relax and tap into your creativity.

Appetizers will be provided by KATFACS. Bring your own adult beverage. Painting costs up to an additional $45 depending upon the number of people painting. Payments accepted onsite.
